100s of Online Entrepreneurs & Freelancers gather for the first Digital Nomad Conference

BERLIN -- January 01, 2015 - The online world continues to pave the way for an array of new job prospects, and one group is seizing the opportunity to combine their love of both work and travel. Digital Nomads leave their offices behind and live location independent, running their businesses and serving clients from various corners of the world. On July 31st and August 1st 2015, online workers will gather at DNX GLOBAL \(www.dnxglobal.com\): Digital Nomad Conference in Berlin to educate ongoing freelancers and entrepreneurs on this lifestyle and connect with those who are already living it.

“We met hundreds of other Digital Nomads in the last three years, and they all have one thing in common: They would like to connect more with other people living that lifestyle,” says Marcus Meurer, Founder DNX GLOBAL. “People are constantly asking us how to get started with this lifestyle, and we met many freelancers and entrepreneurs who are just one step away from beginning their dream career. To satisfy the huge demand of online workers looking for more information, motivation, and connections, we set up the first conference for Digital Nomads: DNX GLOBAL.”

Over 700 people attended 2014’s two DNX conferences in Berlin. Building off of their feedback, in 2015, DNX GLOBAL will offer a number of workshops to spread awareness of self-employment options for travel enthusiasts.

The event’s keynote speakers come from various backgrounds. The line-up includes bestselling Amazon author Natalie Sisson, TED Conference speaker Derek Sivers, long term traveling Digital Nomad Cody McKibben and international travel blogger Sabrina Iovino. Each speaker is prepared to share his or her work experiences, and these talks will reveal both the challenges and advantages that come with location independent careers. Attendees will benefit from practical advice on how to get started, as well as tips on sustaining the lifestyle.

With this many entrepreneurs and freelancers in one place, the event also serves as a useful networking opportunity. Whether at the pre-event, free breakfast or after show party, attendees can compare notes, exchange contact information, and help each other develop sustainable online businesses.
